//About me

The lack of opportunities in my field of studies led me to work all types of precarious jobs. It was time for a change. Some twists and turns later and I took to programming for a second chance.

I take advantage of my upbeat attitude, over-the-top sense of humor and overall informality to add some spice to all projects I get involved with and help push the boat forward!

//Past Work Experience

6 months at a multinational in Madrid

5 more at a university, also in Spain

UVIC

Some backoffice work for doctors in the north of Portugal

In-between better opportunities, back to bars, restaurants, coffee shops and all of the sorts
